

STRATEGO[®] YLD

Protect Your Fields for Higher Yields

Stratego[®] YLD fungicide gives corn and soybean farmers all-around plant coverage for proven disease control and high yield potential.

/// BENEFITS

- Proven Disease Control

With two modes of action, Stratego YLD is effective on a broad range of diseases in corn and soybeans by providing preventive and curative activities.

- Higher Yield Potential

The long-lasting disease control of Stratego YLD offers greater yield potential and increases plant stress tolerance.

- Low Use Rate

Stratego YLD protects corn from disease with rates as low as 4 fl oz/A for VT/R1 applications and 2 fl oz/A for early season applications.

/// EARLY SEASON APPLICATION TO CORN

Early season applications of Stratego YLD—typically made anywhere between the V4 to V7 growth stages—can protect corn from damaging diseases. This application timing gives your corn a proven foundation for maximized yields, especially when coupled with a second spray between the VT and R2 growth stages. Adding an early application of Stratego YLD promotes a healthier plant with stronger stalks; this reduces the risk of lodging and green snap for improved harvestability, and plants stay greener longer for an expanded period of grain fill.
